

KEYNOTE SPEECH

FRÉDÉRIC DOCQUIER (LISER)

GLOBALIZATION AND POPULISM: THE LAST SIXTY YEARS

Several thin, white, parallel diagonal lines crossing the bottom right portion of the slide.

FREDÉRIC DOCQUIER

- ▶ Frédéric Docquier is acting as a Research Program Leader (on Crossing Borders) at the Luxembourg Institute of Socio-Economic Research (LISER) since 2019.
- ▶ He is also IZA fellow and Affiliate Professor at the University of Luxembourg where he is coordinating the ACROSS doctoral training unit.
- ▶ Previously, he was Professor of Economics at the Université Catholique de Louvain and Research Associate of the FNRS (2005-19),
- ▶ Associate Professor at the University of Lille (1997-2005), and Invited Professor at the Université Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne (2015-18), Université Clermont-Auvergne (2013-18) and Université de Nantes (2009-15), among others.
- ▶ He holds a PhD in Economics from the Université d'Aix-Marseille.
- ▶ He acted as a ST Consultant for the World Bank, and as an external expert for the United Nations (UNESCO and High-Level Panel on the post-2015 Development Agenda) and Agence Française de Développement.

Bibliometric indicators

He published articles in Journal of Economic Theory, Journal of Economic Literature, Journal of the European Economic Association, Economic Journal, Journal of Economic Growth, Journal of Economic Geography, Journal of International Economics, Journal of Development Economics, and many other journals.

Most cited publications: Google Scholar (June 15th, 2022)

1. Brain drain and economic growth: theory and evidence (1,878 citations), co-authored with M. Beine and H. Rapoport, Journal of Development Economics.
2. Brain drain and human capital formation in developing countries: winners and losers (1,664 citations), co-authored with M. Beine and H. Rapoport, The Economic Journal.
3. The economics of migrants' remittances (1,458 citations), co-authored with H. Rapoport, Iza discussion paper series.
4. International migration by education attainment 1990-2000 (1,301 citations), co-authored with A. Marfouk.
5. Globalization, brain drain and development (1,257 citations), co-authored with H. Rapoport, Journal of Economic Literature.

Bibliometric indices

Google scholar citation index Cites: 17,391. h-index: 50. i10-index: 112.

- ▶ The focus of Frederic's research is economics of migration, the impact of migration on the labour market, quantitative development theory, economic growth.
- ▶ Latest research also includes a large project funded by INTER on “Globalization, Inequality and Populism across Europe“, supported by the Luxembourg FNR (EUFIRST, n.13956644), and by the Belgian FNRS.
- ▶ Today's presentation, based on this large project, depicts the long-term trends in populism, and identify the role of globalization shocks.
- ▶ It offers a deep analysis on the political consequences of the last sixty years of integration dynamics.
- ▶ The topics of this presentation and of the whole project are articuarly timely as the current issues of globalisation are strongly attached to problems of political and social stability.